EUROPE.

The Inevitable Conflict--England's Preparation for Transport of Troops---Russo-Turkish Relations,

LONDON, May 1.—The Times' correspondent at San Stefano says the impression in the Russian army is that General Todleben's appointment portends strife. He continues: "I am told that Generals Todleben and Imerinsky both think war inevitable. The men are beginning to talk more of war. The appearance of the troops and horses when the Grand Duke Nicholas took his farewell on Saturday was very satisfactory."

The Vienna correspondent of the Times draws serious attention to the awkward position of the Russians, and points out how they are confronted at Constantinople by an army superior to anything the Turks had ever concentrated at one point throughout the war,—an army, according to the lowest estimate, numbering 70,000 men.

The Mussulman insurrection also appears to be growing serious. It involves not only the whole of the northern half of the Rhodope Range, but according to all accounts, is spreading to the Balkans. The Insurgents are ndeavoring to gain strategetic points in a way that shows the existence of a directing head.

The various Vienna correspondents except the Times who is silent on the point, persistently maintain that the Austrian occupation of Bosnia is imminent.

It is stated that Lord Beaconsfield has resolved on the dissolution of Parliament.

It is stated, as the result of private inquiries made by the government at various ports as to what steamers are available for cruisers, or for transporting arms or troops, that about seventy steamers of first-class have been selected, and will be commissioned when required. One company here, owning forty steamers, have offered to place their entire fleet at the service of the government.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—The British fleet which left Ismid for tactical exercise and artillery practice, in the sea of Marmora, will return to its former place in two days. General Todleben has not succeeded in his efforts to arrange a simultaneous withdrawal of the Russian troops and the British fleet from this neighborhood.

The Russians regard a war with the English as inevitable. At the Porte, also, hopes of a pacific arrangement are weaker.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 1.—An early re-establishment of the diplomatic relations between Turkey and Russia, by the appointment of ambassadors, is believed to be probable.

THE BANKRUPT LAW.

Senators Ransom and Merrimon Oppose its Repeal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—The struggle against the unconditional repeal of the bankrupt law and its reference to the Judiciary Committee was earnestly supported by Senators Merrimon and Ransom. During the debate the North Carolina Senators said: The bankrupt law had stood 13 years and certainly there was a doubt as to the propriety of its repeal. He spoke of the Homestead law of North Carolina and said, the Supreme Court of the United States had recently decided it to be of no good against old debt. Shou l the bankrupt law now be repealed, many persons in their State would be turned out of their homes without mercy. They favored the amendment of Mr. Matthews, that these people might have time to save their homesteads by availing themselves of the bankrupt law. The State could not give them relief but the bankrupt law would do so.

Opening of the International Exhibition.

PARIS, May 1.—The International Exhibition of 1878, opened to-day with great eclat. The programme for the event, heretofore made public, is being strictly carried out. At one time in the morning it was feared the ceremonies would be interfered with, as at 9 o'clock rain was falling, but at 9:45 o'clock the rain ceased. At 11:30 the clouds broke and the sun shone out brilliantly, the weather though was rather hot. President McMahon reached the Exhibition at 2 o'clock in a State carriage, escorted by his military household. He was welcomed by M. Teisserere DeBort, Minister of Commerce, and declared the Exhibition open amid salvos of artillery and music by the bands. The Marshal then, at the head of a brilliant procession, which included the Prince of Wales, ex-King Amadeus, and the Crown Prince of Denmark and the Netherlands proceeded through the exhibition buildings. The scene was picturesque and imposing in the extreme. State bodies in grand uniform, Councillors and Magistrates in their robes, and the different bodies of the Institute, and the legion of honor, stood in strong contrast with the Senators, deputies and clergy, and the minor officials in their civil costumes. The exhibition building was gaily decorated with the flags of all nations, and an immense crowd was in the vicinity. The American section, though unfinished, compares favorably with the others. The department of manufactures shows the least progress. The American art department is the best ever shown by America abroad.

A Libel Suit.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Louis J. Jennings, former editor of the New York Times, brought suit for $50,000 damages against John Kelly, Erastus Brooks, and Augustus Schell for libel in the Evening Express, alleging him to be a cockney editor, and that he beat his wife, used her money, pawned her jewelry, drew checks on banks for which he had no money, and committed many other disreputable acts.

Explosion on a Tow Boat.

MEMPHIS, May 1.—The tow boat Warner, from New Orleans for St. Louis, has just exploded opposite this city. All on board are believed to have have been lost.

National Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The debt statement decreased three millions. In Treasury: Coin 156 million; currency 1 1½ million.

Failures.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Henry Lawrence & Son, Cordage manufacturers, have assigned. Liabilities a quarter of a million dollars.

Forty-Fifth Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—SENATE.—Blaine called up the resolution submitted by him a few days ago, declaring that any radical change in our tariff at this, time would be inopportune, and said he did so for the purpose of having a vote thereon.

Beck objected, and said he proposed to discuss the resolution as fully as he could.

Wallace gave notice that he would submit a substitute for the resolution, declaring that legislation on the subject of the tariff at the present session of Congress is inopportune and inexpedient.

Garland, of Arkansas, introduced a bill providing for a commission to examine into the subject of the tariff, with a view of facilitating legislation relative thereto. Referred to the committee on Finance.

A debate followed as to when the resolution of Blaine should be considered.

HOUSE.—The session was consumed in consideration of the legislative appropriation bill; no final action.

Mr. Robertson, of Louisiana, chairman of the Committee on Mississippi Levees, reported a bill appropriating $3,871,000 for closing crevasses, raising and strengthening levees on the Mississippi River; ordered to be printed and recommitted.

SENATE.—Mr. Blair's resolution was laid aside, and the repeal of the bankrupt act was resumed. An amendment fixing the date of the repeal to January 1st, 1879, was adopted; 25 to 22. The bill was finally referred to the Judiciary Committee. Adjourned.

Miscellaneous Telegrams.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The steamship "Rotterdam" having arrived here without a physician, and having had some deaths on board, the Commissioners of Emigration have adopted a resolution calling the attention of the Dutch government to the case, and praying that it will in the future inflict such penalties as may be necessary on all emigrant ships sailing for this country without a physician. There was a medicine chest in Captain Lucas' charge, but he said when he was called upon to use it he became so puzzled as to the proper quantities that he did not dare administer the smallest doses.

BOSTON, May 1.—The Fox Brothers' Massachusetts Savings Bank was yesterday restricted from paying more than 10 per cent. to any depositor during the next six months, and 10 per cent. additional during the succeeding six months. The deposits now in the bank amount to $198,000.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The signal service station at Sandy Hook, N. J., reports the bark "Nettie T. Guest" ashore about one mile north of this station.

The Attorney General has forwarded funds and instructed the Marshal of Alabama to allow no intermission in the Federal courts. He also instructs that prisoners in jail must have the first hearing. It has not transpired whether these instructions have been sent to other United States Marshals.

LONDON, May 1.—The first secular days of May and November being days on which the Bank of England makes up its balances, to-day is a holiday at the bank and on the Stock Exchange.

Death of a Prominent Democrat.

CHARLESTON, May 1.—HON. Thos. Y. Simmons, a leading member of the Charleston Bar, and one of the most prominent Democrats of the South, is dead.

Bonds Called In.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Secretary of the Treasury has called in five million of the 5-20's bonds, consols of '65; interest ceases the 30th of July.

Moffett Punch in Louisiana.

(N. Y. Herald)

NEW ORLEANS, April 28, 1878.

Governor Nicholls this morning had promulgated the Moffett Register bill, which was passed at the recent sitting of the Legislature. The bill places a quarter of a cent tax on every drink, and it is thought will yield a revenue of $300,000 annually. When it was passed it was done more as an experiment than anything else, it being believed that it would work favorably, though its opponents said it would not add a dollar to the revenues.

ANTAGONISM OF THE WHISKEY MEN.

In interviews with prominent whiskey men they all stated to your correspondent that they would fight it in the courts to the bitter end. They have already formed an association numbering about five hundred members, who have employed counsel, and a bitter fight will be made. They also stated they would never subscribe another cent to aid the Democratic party, which passed the bill; that they will fight that party in the future and help to defeat it at the next election. The first attempt will be made to prove the bill unconstitutional, but as it was carefully drawn up by an ex-judge of the Supreme Court, and passed upon by almost every leading lawyer in the Legislature, it is not believed this will hold. Governor Nicholls himself, after a careful examination, believed it was constitutional, and hence his signature.

Monument to the Hon. W. A. Graham.

(Hillsboro Recorder.)

The family of this distinguished deceased will soon cause to be erected to his memory a suitable memorial of his life, character and services. It will be in the form of a monument, a shaft of Rhode Island granite, resting upon a pediment of the same material, upon which will be cut the appropriate inscriptions. The whole will be twenty one feet high, and it will be placed in the cemetery of the Presbyterian Church in this town. It will be received here some time during the month of the coming June.

Mr. Jno. Pore, who lives in the lower part of Lumpkin County, Georgia, had two little children, aged respectively three and six. They were engaged in their customary play, a few days ago, while the mother was at the well. The oldest child, for what reason it will never be known, picked up a sharp hatchet and struck the baby in the side, leaving the axe sticking in the wound. The child seeing what he had done ran and told his mother, who was drawing up a bucket of water at the time. This so frightened her that she let go of the windlass, and the revolving crank struck the boy on the head and literally knocked his brains out, killing him instantly. When the horror stricken mother got to her baby it was also dead.

THE WORLEY MURDER.

FULL REPORT OF THE TRIAL

The Opening Statement--Examination of the State's Witness --Clear Evidence of Guilt.

(Correspondence of the News.)

GOLDSBORO, Tuesday, April 30, 1878.

Yesterday at 10 o'clock A. M. the trial of Noah Cherry, Robert Thompson, and Harriss Atkinson, all negroes, for the murder of James Worley and his wife, Appy Jane Worley, on Monday night, February 11th last, on the plantation of Wm. F. Atkinson, in the western portion of Wayne county, began in the town of Goldsboro, His Honor Judge Kerr presiding.

Hon. Wm. T. Dortch, Hon. Isaac F. Dortch, Wm. F. Clark, Esq., acting Solicitor, and Hugh F. Murray, Esq., of Wilson, represent the State.

For the defendants, Geo B Wassom, Esq., colored, appears for Noah Cherry; J D Kerr, Esq., for Harriss Atkinson, and Capt Swift Galloway, of Greene, for Robert Thompson.

At 10 A M. His Honor Judge Kerr ascended the bench, and the prisoners were brought into court. The building was densely packed; indeed people from every section of the county, and many adjoining counties, were present. Probably not less than three thousand persons were in and about the court house and jail.

OPENING THE CASE.

The witnesses were then called, all answering to their names promptly. Now the tedious work of selecting a jury was begun. From the regular jury only one man was chosen. The special venire of two hundred men —free-holders, some colored, were placed in the hat, and not until one hundred and forty-two names had been drawn was the jury of twelve men selected. At 2 P. M. the following gentlemen were empaneled and sworn in: William Mooring, (farmer,) Cullen Flowers, (farmer,) A. T. Brown, (merchant,) Thomas Sutton, (farmer,) Giles Kornegay, (farmer,) Geo H Grantham, (farmer, and ex-member of State Convention,) Mathew Jones, jr., (farmer,) W J Forehand, (farmer,) Howell Garris, (farmer,) J Wesley Talton, (farmer,) N G Holland, (farmer,) Jackson Pate, (farmer,) all white—seven Democrats, five Republicans.

The Clerk of the Court then ordered the prisoners to stand up and hear the bill of indictment. This was quite lengthy, the prisoners showing little or no emotion during the recital of the horrible crimes with which they stand charged.

At 2:15 P. M. the court adjourned until 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court met at 3 o'clock, and the dense crowd of the morning was packed and jammed, so that those in could not get out of the court-house, and those out could not get within hearing distance of the door. On a tripod near the jury were two large maps, giving a full view of the entire country surrounding the scene of the tragedy. The witnesses for the State were called in and sworn, and on motion of Capt. Swift Galloway, of counsel for the prisoners, separated and compelled to leave the court-house. The witnesses for the defence were then called in and sworn.

MR. DORTCH'S OPENING SPEECH.

The Honorable W. T. Dortch then, on behalf of the State, proceeded in his usual, clear, forcible and luminous style, to give a brief summary of the points relied on by the State.

"Gentleman," said he, "we are about to enter upon the most important case ever tried in Wayne county, one of the most interesting in the State, and, perhaps the United States. I therefore caution you to be careful not to give your verdict against the prisoners until you are fully satisfied of their guilt. A peaceful citizen, James Worley, has been murdered, his wife first violated and then murdered, Try, gentlemen, to find out all about the transaction. We will show you by the evidence, that Worley, his wife and three children, lived at the Islands of the Neuse, an extensive tract of country inhabited exclusively for years by colored people, until a short time ago, when Worley moved in there.

MOTIVE OF THE CRIME.

I think the motive of the crime was that it was a good range for cattle, and some good timber in there, and the colored people could not have the same license since Worley moved down there. I don't wish to prejudice you against the defendants because they are colored. The colored people have acted nobly in this matter, and the principal credit of having discovered the murderers is due to them. But there are some bad, lawless men down there, and they did not want such a man as Worley down there. Another motive was that Noah Cherry was

CRAZY AFTER WORLEY'S WIFE.

About one month before the murder he was heard to say, 'he would have her if he had to kill her husband.' He also said her husband was 'not man enough for her.' The main evidence of the State will be Jerry Cox. On the morning of the day before Jerry had been working with Noah Cherry, Cherry asked Cox to meet him at a certain place about sunset. He thought he wanted him to get staves. Jerry was present when Cherry stooped down and got his axe. They went to Worley's house. Jerry stopped at the bars. It was a log house, 18x20, it had two doors; the back door was closed. As they came to the bars Harris and Bob Thompson met them. The houses of the prisoners were near together. The three went into the house. Jerry stopped at the bars. Now the other side will say, he is particeps criminis. It is competent evidence. You may convict on the unsupported testimony of an accomplice. You may believe part and reject part, if you are satisfied he tells you the truth about how the killing occured, whether you are satisfied he tells the truth as to the part he had in it or not.

WHAT THE STATE WILL PROVE.

Each of the three committed a rape on her. We shall confirm him in many important particulars. Not long after they got into the house, he heard some words, then a rumpus, then blows; they all seemed to be near the fire place. He says he did not see what took place there. You may infer they committed the rape and ran off. One seized her by the throat and the other fells him with an axe. She was a powerful woman, brought up to work. Noah carried an axe; Atkinson carried a stick. Worley attempted to escape. At the fire-place there is blood, showing some one was struck there. The man rushes out of the door, Cherry pursues him, and round the house by the chimney, fells him. Then Robert Thompson lets in with a stick. There was blood all around the room, and blood spattered on the chimney, to show where he was. He was standing when struck.

As to Harris Atkinson, we will introduce experts to show the woman was choked; there were marks on her breast, and on her thigh. On the return of Cherry and Thompson, Harris had the woman down on the floor. Noah Cherry raped her, then Harris Atkinson, then she kinder revives and attempts to escape, and Noah Cherry strikes her with the axe, and spatters her blood against the water shelf. Harris Atkinson beats her in the head with his stick. Then all leave. There are signs of the axe on the rafters, at the door marks of the axe; the heads of both are beaten to a jelly. The man is wounded all over, on his breast, neck, arms, &c. The other side may contend that one man did it all, and that was Jerry Cox. Look at the facts and circumstances of the case. Both young, and a big dog there; the dog fought for his master. There were marks on the ground as though the dog had been struck at. There were no tracks, the ground was hard. We will show a large bloody stick found there. We shall introduce a physician, who examined Mrs. Worley and found her courses upon her and prints of bloody fingers on her thighs; this corroborates Cox. We shall show the two lived close together. (Points out on map). Cherry worked near there. The murder was on Monday, February 11th. On the Sunday before and that Monday morning they were together.

LURKING IN THE WOODS.

John Talton was baiting turkeys in the woods on Monday evening late, and Noah passed in a few feet of him and did not see him. He was going sauntering about. He could not get out that way, as the creek and river hemmed him in. What was he there for? We say to kill time till the hour of meeting. He wanted to keep from being seen. We say he met others.

TRACKING NOAH.

When next seen he is at Alvin Stallings, a half an hour after the crime was committed. Next we find him one hour later at Melvin Atkinson's. He had his washing done at Bob Thompson's, and there a day or so after the murder they found in a tub of lye some of Noah's clothes. Why in lye?

We shall show the clothes. On shirt tail signs of blood. Where did blood come from? Was not he the first to violate Mrs. Worley? How came the splotches of blood on his pants? 1st, he said, I stuck a splinter in my hand and got the blood on so. 2nd. He said it was oak stains. We shall introduce men, who will prove the stains could not have been made in February. No sap then in the trees. And then how did it stain his shirt through his pants. These little things point conclusively to the crimin.l. It is so decreed by the Almighty for the detection of crime. The colored people of that neighborhood are entitled to all credit. Gentlemen, I admit he has told two different stories, but he knew if he told he would be killed by Harris Atkinson and Robert Thompson. As soon as he was arrested and put in jail he told. We will prove by two or three witnesses that the clothes seen on Noah Cherry on Monday morning, were on his person, and same as those found. Noah left Alvin Atkinson's house on Monday, and said he should not come back for a week, yet he comes back that same night.

TILDA WORLEY.

The oldest child is 5 years old. She don't know the obligation of an oath; but when charged by Tilda Worley as the men who killed her papa, Noah Cherry and Harris Atkinson did not deny it. She pointed out the two. When asked the same question a week after, Harris Atkinson did not deny it. About two hours after sun-set, Noah Cherry appeared at Arthur Stevens and said: "I've seen the greatest sight I ever saw Worley and his wife murdered; I've come to tell you." Talton said Cherry did not see him. Cherry first said he did see him, then denied it. Cherry had some difficulty with Worley about some lumber about two weeks before.

AGAINST ROBERT THOMPSON.

Against Thompson we have Cherry's clothes, found at his house, a bloody hatchet and hoe-helve found there, and when asked about them, he said he had been killing one pig. We will show he had not killed a pig that Fall. Thompson and Atkinson were not seen at home late Monday evening. Then again on Tuesday both crossed and came near to Worley's house to find out what had got out. Bob meets a man and asks to be hired. He volunteers the information "I did a mighty hard day's work, I mauled all day at Hunter Hall's yesterday." We show by Hunter Hall that he never mauled a rail for him. Robert Thompson said, when he heard of it, "I suppose it was some old grudge and they packed it off on Cherry. It is nothing, a small matter. worse things have been done than that Worley was killed about. If Cherry is hanged I will be too." Little Tilda Worley said, "It is old Hare," When sent for as a witness before the Coroner, he refused to go, said he was no witness, and did not intend to be. He made them read the paper over two or three times. On Tuesday he crossed the river, went five miles round to get to Mr. Conolls, when he could have gone by the bridge and saved a mile, or saved four by crossing in one of the canoes. We shall also prove that the Sheriff went to his house and found an axe that had been recently washed. Why! There were quantities of blood on the ground, and a big stick found at the house, blood spattered under the house.

"A MERE MATTER OF NOTHING."

Harris Atkinson said, "this is a mere matter of nothing; if it had been a negro nothing would have been said, but it being one of the white folks, they make a big fuss about it." Tilda Worley called him "old Hare" and he seemed scared for fear she should recognize him. There were clothes at his house in soak, but unfortunately we can't identify them.

JERRY COX ON THE STAND.

Jerry Cox then introduced; he said: "I heard Noah Cherry say that he was going to kill Worley about that lumber, and he said he could accomplish his means with his wife so. This was about a month before the murder. Noah Cherry had been working at the Islands. (The Islands of Neuse are certain low-grounds near the river—not strictly speaking islands, but only partially surrounded by water.) He had been getting staves there. Worley had made one crop there and planted another. I worked with Noah Cherry five months. I quit August 3d. I passed Worley's house going to my work. Noah passed there. I lived about two miles off. I came up from round back of the house. I saw Worley last on the Friday before he was killed. at old man Gen. Atkinson's house. I never met him again. Noah Cherry told me to meet him at the corner of the fence, not far from the house, down there by the Toler place field fence; that evening about night I got there. I saw Noah Cherry; it was about deep dark. He was coming in haste from towards the old Toler place. He said, "lets go down in the Islands." I thought we were going to work, because when he was pushed up he worked at night. We went towards Mr. Worley's; we stopped before we got to Worley's house to get an axe. This was about 275 yards off. He pulled the axe from under a tree top. He went further down for pine staves, and we stopped and looked at some timber. Never told me why he wanted to go to Worley's. He had told me before he was going to kill Worley, but I did not believe he was fool enough to do it. I gave Noah Cherry drinks. We did have a dispute, but made it up immediately. This was last summer. When we got to the bars Noah hailed, and told Mr. Worley to keep the dog back; also told Worley to come out there. We had been there about five minutes when Harriss and Bob came up, coming from the opposite direction. Bob had an axe and a stick like a walking stick. Harriss had a stick. The moon was shining. It was a little cloudy, "about 3 o'clock, high by sun, at day time." I have been in Worley's house before that, but not since. The front door is before the bars; they are six or seven steps apart. There was a right smart blast of fire. I staid out. I thought Noah wanted to get some fire, or do a little trading. Worley asked us all in. We had worked out there several nights. I next heard a lumbering about the fire-place, but from where I was I could not tell what it was. The fire-place is in the other end of the house, the door in the middle. The back door was not open. I heard a little chat, but could not tell what it was. I had not seen Worley since he went in the house up to that time. It was not over five or six minutes after they went in. I first saw Worley run towards the door.

HOW THE DEED WAS DONE.

I saw Cherry strike him with the axe. He was running slow, with his head down. A little child could have caught him. Cherry struck him with the axe, then Bob killed him with a stick by the chimney. Cherry struck him in the head. He was down when Bob struck him with a stick. I saw Bob and Noah Cherry come back and go in the house. I saw Harris have Mrs. Worley round the neck with both both his hands. He got her in front of the door. Harris had not been out at all. Old man Cherry passed the first rape upon her, then Robert Thompson, and Harris last. After Noah Cherry got through, he went round where Worley was. Mrs. Worley revived and started out. Cherry met her at the door and struck her with the axe. He knocked her off the steps. She said, "Oh, Lordy!" Harris struck her with a stick. She was on the second door-step. She fell off the block on the north side. Harris struck her with a stick. Worley said, "Hell Fire!" about the time he was struck with the axe. I don't know how many children there are. I saw one little girl that night; she ran from the fire place to the bed. They all left then. Robert and Harris went off together, and Cherry and I went the way we came. When we got 75 yards off, I said, "you will certainly have to encounter for that." He said "if you tell I'll kill you or some one else will." I walked off and we separated at the end of the lane. Cherry went towards the Toler place. I went home. The Toler place is towards Melvin Atkinson's house. I was examined before the Coroner, I was afraid to tell for fear they would kill me. There might have been a dozen round, but I could only swear to those I knew. I first told of this the morning we started to town, I told Moses Carroll and General Atkinson, I told the colored jury. I had fears and was not satisfied until I got in jail. Robert and Harris were not in jail when I first got there. I denied it because I feared being killed. I thought it was better to let them hold meetings and find out. There was not a white man there. The clothes that Noah Cherry wore were then brought in and identified. Cox was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by Capt. Swift Galloway, but was in no material particular shaken.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF JERRY COX.

Jerry Cox, cross-examined by Swift Galloway: "I don't know the day I was brought here—Tuesday I think—I was brought here under arrest, Moses Carroll and old man General Atkinson brought me. I did not know why they brought me. One day last week I was told I'd be pardoned if I told all. Noah had an axe, Robert had an axe, Harris had a stick. I denied to the coroner that I knew anything about the matter. I was next sworn before Mr. Griswold. I told him I met Noah afterwards and he told me about it. I do not know hardly what I told him, I was so excited. I told Mr Griswold that I met Noah and he told me he had killed the scoundrel. I asked what scoundrel, and he said Jim Worley. I asked who helped him, and he said Harris and Bob. I said he told me that about three quarters of a mile this side of my house. I never told any one in the new ground, I did not say the day I was brought here that Mrs. Worley shut up the dog. I said Worley guarded them into the house. I never said Worley ran the dog off; I did not say I saw the dog there. I sharpened an axe on Monday. I burnt my axe helve up the same morning, as the murder was on the next morning; I only burnt up the part where the helve was; Reddick Atkinson came there while I was fixing it; I asked what a participle was; the axe might have had blood on it, but the helve did not; I cut my hog's head open with it and cut up the meat; I burned the helve to get my axe; it was worn out and no account, it had become obsolete for my use; Isaac Atkinson was present when I cut up the hog; I never told the Sheriff there was blood on the helve; might have told him I cut up the hog; I ought to have taken the helve out before I sharpened the axe, but I did not; I never get out an axe helve any way except by burning. Noah Cherry did not tell me what he was going to do before I got to Wogley's; I had no business in the house; Robert said good evening when he came up; Harris had both of his hands on Mrs. Worley's neck. The hog was about 125 yards long. Noah had an axe there. Noah had an axe Bob had an axe, and Harris had a stick. I thought we were going down in the Islands to work. I work with Noah's tools. I do not use mine, unless I am paid their full money value. I did not say they had to kill Mrs Worley because she screamed so. It was about an hour after I met Noah before it was done. They were about ½ of an hour at it. I met Noah at the old Toler field, between sunset and dark. We stopped to get the axe, and again to talk about some trees, and stayed there talking about 10 minutes. It was about an hour in the night when we got there. I was much afraid about it. I did not kill Worley. I had known him about 12 months. I did not tell the Coroner I had known him five months. During last summer I had a row with Noah. I began to work in March and worked till August 3d. I got mad because he told a tale on me about a girl. I did not tell the Coroner's jury that it was because he owned me money. I told the Coroner's jury that I had not seen Worley since Friday. I was afraid to tell the last time, because it was at Worley's house. Noah was in jail then. I do not know where Bob was. I told General Ransom and Moses Carroll about it. I told them part, and told them I would tell them more next day. Seven or eight colored men brought me to jail. I did not tell Griswold I saw the murder in the house; I did not become satisfied in my mind till I was in jail; I feared I would be killed. I did not see the dog that night. I never said Mrs. Worley drove the dog under the house. I never told Capt. Fulghum there was only one axe, and Noah Cherry had that. I don't know what Harriss did with the axe, but he carried it back with him. Mrs. Worley was plain before the door, and I could see her; I begged them to quit, but they paid no attention to me. I told Sarah Atkinson I would not let any one shoot the old man, as he owed me. I never was in in jail before I was examined by Mr. Griswold. Everybody knows who I am."

CLOTHES OF CHERRY

were exhibited, and the witness swore he knew they belonged to Cherry, by the patches on them; that Cherry had worn them on the day of the murder; and that there were no stains on them that day

The State then put in evidence the Almanac.

EVIDENCE OF TALTON.

John Talton was next called, says: "I lived the 11th of February at the John Toler place. It is on the road from Goldsboro to Cox's mill. It is a little over a mile from the place where Cox said he met Noah to the Worley place. I knew Worley. I don't know his age; should guess him to be about 30; his wife some 24 or 25. Her name is Appy Jane Worley. I saw Cherry on the evening of the murder, in the woods, about one-fourth of a mile from my house. It was ten or fifteen minutes after sunset when I saw him. I had baited some turkeys, and went every evening to see if they had taken the bait. As I was coming back I heard something coming. I stopped. Noah came in sight; he passed by me, in 10 or 15 feet. I do not think he saw me; he was looking down. Every now and then he would stop and listen. He stopped three times and listened for half a minute. I heard him give a groan; he appeared troubled; he was about 100 yards from the path. It is an open oak ridge. There is no way to get out, the course he was going, without crossing the river or wading the sluice. I leaned up against a tree and looked at him. I went to Worley's at 11 o'clock Tuesday, and saw his wife lying at the door, murdered. I saw Worley by the chimney. She was on the right side of the door. The bars are about 25 or 30 feet off. I went with Wm P Atkinson, John Atkinson, Moses Carroll, and others. The three children were there; the oldest is 4 or 5 years old. It was a log house, 18x20, and there were two doors; the front door was open, the back door shut and fastened; pinned with an iron pin. There was blood on the hearth, some on the floor and on the table; it led out of the front door; the drops were pretty free. The door is in the centre of the house; the chimney is in the south end. I saw splotches on the ground, 'round to where Worley was. I saw the blood spattered on the chimney from 7 to 3 feet of the ground. I saw the print of two blows with an axe on the ground near Worley's body. They were made with the eye of the axe, and about two steps from his body. I saw signs of where the dog had scratched and slided on the ground near the body of Worley, a few feet from his body. There were two chops in the yard near Mrs. Worley, about 3 steps off. A little further off, with blade of the axe. The ground in the yard was very hard. The distance of the place where I first saw Noah to where Jerry Cox says he met him is half a mile. (The clothes were then produced.) I have worked a great deal in oak timber. In February oak timber will not stain. There is no sap in it then. I saw the clothes first at the Coroner's jury.

The stains were on them that day as I see them now. On the wrists, shirt tail and on the pants. Not quite so plain as they were then. Those are not timber stains, to the best of my belief they are blood stains."

Great sensation was produced by this, and every one was anxiously trying to get a look at the tattered garments.

CROSS EXAMINED.

Oak will not stain in February. It may stain a little in March, but not much. Some in April, in an ordinary season. Noah came in about fifteen feet of me. I am deaf in one ear. I heard the groan distinctly, my good ear was towards him. Neither of us was in the path. His work is ¼ of a mile from there, South of there. He was not going towards Worley's house when I saw him. If he saw me he never turned his head. I looked at him steadily, and never blinked, I watched him closely, because I had heard him say that if some people fooled with turkey baits, the turkeys would not come. Noah was going East. I was examined before coroner's jury. I can't swear that I can tell old blood stains from old coffee stains. I don't know as I could from old molasses stains dipped in lye.

I saw the print of the dog's nails. It was cold weather, the ground was frozen on Tuesday morning. It was clay soil. There is an open space round Worley's house.

TESTIMONY OF MELVIN ATKINSON.

Melvin Atkinson was next called. "I lived on Murphey's land last February. I have known Noah Cherry one year and a half. He stayed at my house; he came there in December last. He slept there. He left there on Friday before the murder, and did not return till between sunset and dark Sunday night. He left again Monday morning, and told me he would not be back till Saturday. He said he was going to get staves with Robert Thompson; that he should sleep at his house or stay with Arthur Stevens. I saw him back that night. I met him off Gaines' house, between my house and Mrs. Murphey's, on Monday night. Noah was going towards my house, about 250 yards off. I think it was about 10 o'clock. I had no watch. I had come home and got up wood and lightwood, and ate supper, and sat smoking, and then Lewis and Isaac came home at dark. I got up accounts and talked a long time about an ox rope. I found Cherry there when I got back. Lewis came with me. Noah had his face in his hands; said he wanted some meal. He cooked some and ate it. He went off Tuesday and went in the same direction as formerly. Robert Thompson and Harris Atkinson live on Massey's land. It is in Johnston, on the other side of Moccasin. They live about 350 yards apart. (Clothes shown.) I don't think those are the clothes Noah had on Monday. I have seen Noah Cherry with those clothes on Friday morning. I don't think he had more than one suit. I heard Noah Cherry say Worley had a bad dog and he would not let you pass by; I heard Noah Cherry speak about Mrs Worley, first, he said Mr. Worley was a small man, and that he had a pretty large wife, and it looked as if he wasn't able to do for her; this was in December.

Motion to exclude by defendants' counsel.

Evidence withdrawn by the State.

The account was some notching on a stick. Noah wanted me to see Rob't Lee at Boone Hill, and ask him to meet Noah at my house Saturday night. Noah Cherry never told me why he came back that night. Noah Cherry told me he had his washing done sometimes at General Atkinson's, sometimes at Robert Thompson's. I don't know what is the common rule about settlements being made at night in my neighborhood, but I know we went there that night. Noah generally came home about 1 or 1½ hours in the night, he sometimes got there as late as that.

THE CHILD WITNESS.

Little Tilda Worley was here brought in, in charge of her uncle, and created a profound sensation. Every eye was turned upon her, and she looked scared almost to death. Her cheeks were flushed. Every one's eyes seemed ready to fill with tears of sympathy.

The Solicitor examined Tilda Worley in our office, and she said: "Uncle Noah knocked my papa in the head with an axe. Old Hare was there. My papa and mama were sitting on the hearth. I saw some blood on my papa's head. I did not see any blood on my mama." The child has heretofore been fully described, she is very shy, and between four and five years old.

METHODISM.

Throughout the World--M. E. Churches, North and South--Approaching General Conference--Our Reporter There--Notes by the Way.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 30th 1878.

(Special Correspondence of the NEWS.)

Leaving our pleasant home in Louisburg last Friday and passing through Raleigh, we reached Charlotte last Saturday at 9:45 p. m., and by special invitation from Dr. W. H. Bobbitt, the Presiding Elder of Charlotte District, and Rev. A. A. Boshamer, the Pastor of Tryon St. Church, we spent the Sabbath in Charlotte. A most delightful day we had. The people of Charlotte are greatly pleased with Dr. Bobbitt and Dr. Boshamer. I was not surprised at this. Methodism is doing well in Charlotte. Leaving Charlotte Monday at 12:36 p. m., making a run of 267 miles, over trestles, through gorges, now in a valley, with a majestic mountain towering above us, now on a high trestle or embankment, with a beautiful valley lying far below us, passing through all this magnificent scenery we reached Atlanta at 11:45 p. m., and spent the night at the Markham House, from which place we write these lines.

Preparatory to the regular reports of the proceedings of the General Conference, which assembles in this city to-morrow, it may be well to call the attention of your readers to a few facts connected with the especially in the United States.

In 1729, Rev. John Wesley, a priest or presbyter in the Church of England, in connection with several others, formed a society at Oxford, in England, for the purpose of assisting each other in the improvement of their time and studies. On account of the regularity of their lives, the rigidness with which they adhered to method in their studies, and their great diligence in doing good, some of the wits of Oxford called them Methodists, a name by which John Wesley and his followers have been known ever since. This little society grew rapidly in members and influence. John Wesley and his brother Charles left England to visit Georgia, and arrived in Georgia February 6th, 1736 Here they remained about two years, and returned to England in 1738. It was on the return trip to England that Mr. Wesley, through the influence and instruction of some Moravian ministers, was converted. After this he became so earnest and urgent in his preaching and exhortations to repentance that he was not allowed to preach in the churches belonging to the Church of England, hence he went out into the open fields and preached. Many were awakened under his ministry, and came to him for instruction; this led him to draw up some rules for the government of their conduct, which rules, with but little change, are the General Rules of the Methodists to-day.

THE FIRST METHODIST SOCIETY

organized in the United States was formed in the City of New York by Philip Embury, a local minister, and was composed of a few pious emigrants from Ireland. The formation of this society was due to the influence of a pious old Irish lady. The first methodist sermon ever preached in America was preached by this same Philip Embury in New York in his own house to only five persons. The first Methodist Church ever erected in America was erected on John St., New York, and the first sermon preached in it was preached by Philip Embury. This was the origin of Methodism in the United States. From this beginning it increased, until annual conferences were formed, then general conferences, and the following statistics will give the reader some idea of the rapid growth of the church in the United States since 1760, a little over 100 years ago:

No. of Methodist Traveling Preachers in U. S.	22,974
No. of Methodist Local Preachers in U. S.	26,443
No. of Methodist Lay members in U. S.	3,315,312
Total,	3,364,729

The number of Methodists throughout the world are as follows:

Traveling Preachers,	28,714
Local "	67,121
Lay members,	4,383,888
Total,	4,479,723

Up to 1844 the M. E. Church, North and the M. E. Church, South, existed under one jurisdiction, known as the Methodist Episcopal Church, but at the General Conference which met in New York City in May, 1844, occurred, which resulted in the formation of a Northern and a Southern Methodist church. The following circumstances led to the division: James O. Andrew, of Georgia, was a bishop in the church, and had had bequeathed to him a mulatto girl, in trust, until she became 19 years of age. He was then to send her to Liberia—if she would go. When the time arrived she refused to go —the laws of Georgia would not permit Bishop Andrew to emancipate her, so he let her live in her own house on his lot, with her time at her own command, as free as she could be in Georgia and at liberty to go to a free State whenever she chose. In 1839 Bishop Andrew's first wife's mother died and left her daughter, the Bishop's wife, a negro boy. Two years after Mrs. Andrews died, without a will, and the negro boy became Bishop Andrew's property. In 1844, just before the General Conference referred to above, Bishop Andrew married the second time, and the lady to whom he was married owned slaves; these he secured to her by a deed of trust. Now in consequence of the above facts, there was an ultra-abolition sentiment at the North that demanded Bishop Andrew's resignation, and found expression in the following preamble and resolution, which, after a long and able discussion, was adopted by a vote of 111 against 69, mostly Southern ministers voting against it:

A DIVISION

"WHEREAS, The discipline of our church forbids the doing anything calculated to destroy our itinerant general superintendency; and whereas, Bishop Andrew has become connected with slavery by marriage and otherwise, and this act having drawn after it circumstances which, in the estimation of the General Conference, will greatly embarrass the exercise of his office as an itinerant general superintendent, if not in some places entirely prevent it;

SOUTHERN NEWS.

The Portsmouth Times estimates that the truckers in that vicinity were damaged $120,000 by the hail storm of Sunday.

Many Cubans who have been residing in the neighborhood of Key West have taken up their departure for Havana since peace has been restored.

The post-office at Marshall, Texas, was entered by a party of masked robbers on Sunday night, the postmaster compelled to open the safe, and $2,000 in money and stamps were carried off.

A gentleman of Atlanta is lecturing on the much discussed subject of dancing. He treats the waltz in a humorous and witty manner, and under the significant title, "Closer to my bosom come."

Norfolk Virginian: The Republicans are arranging to send prominent members of their party into Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana to work their interests and secure the election of Republican Congressmen. They evidently do not believe their twice-told tale that the Democrats in that section butchered all the Republicans in 1876.

Patrick Irwin, the great New Orleans millionaire, is dead. He began life about forty years ago in that city as the keeper of a small drinking place, and soon started a line of omnibuses, and through that means built up the suburbs of the city, and his own fortunes pari passu. He has been in the Council of the city nearly all the time, and was lately president of the Hibernian bank. His property is estimated at $3,000,000.

Savannah News: Memorial day was celebrated all over this State and Florida this year, with more eclat and genuine heartfelt impressiveness and solemnity than has been the case for many years. It is indeed gratifying that lapse of time rather increases than diminishes the sincere affection of the Southern people for our dead heroes. Thanks for this are mainly due (as is usual in all things pure and lovely) to the efforts of our noble ladies.

There is a real case of leprosy in the City Hospital of Baltimore. The patient is a native of New York, is 45 years old and has been residing in Cuba for 12 years. His hands and feet are covered with scaly ulcers, and his face is covered with large tuberculous sores, which give him a shocking appearance. The surgeons do not consider the disease contagious, but say that the disease, though slow in its progress, is sure to prove fatal. The patient is in the second stage of its progress.

STATE NEWS.

Lumberton Times: Rumor has it now that John Locklear was not wounded as badly by the Sheriff as he thought. His wife says he only received a slight flesh wound in the arm.

Hillsboro Recorder: Mr. Joseph R. Cheshire, Jr., son of the Rev. Dr. Cheshire, was ordained Deacon of the Episcopal Church in Tarboro on Easter Sunday. He will soon take charge of the Chapel of the Cross at Chapel Hill.

Charlotte Observer: Don't know, unless it's because a young man's fancy turns about more vigorously at this season, for after all isn't there a great deal of fancy's work about the business? Harris of the Concord Sun can tell about this feature of it.

Oxford Torchlight: On the night of the 24th ult., at about 12 o'clock a terrible storm swept over a very limited scope of county near the Flat River Bridge in Orange county. The house in which Mr. Joseph Walker lived (a large log house, hewn from trees 1 inches in diameter) was completely demolished. Mr. Walker was found beneath the heavy timbers with a little girl under each arm. He was very badly bruised and in an insensible condition. His wife and six or seven children escaped with but little injury. It is stated upon very good authority that some logs were blown from a newly built crib, without blowing the roof off. Nearly every panel of fence along the road for a half mile was blown down.

Charlotte Observer: Yesterday morning after the mail train on the Cholotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, had passed through the bridge over Steel Creek, Engineer Picklin, while turning the curve, saw a colored man walking along the track only a short distance ahead of the locomotive. As the engine gained upon him and he did not look around, the whistle was blown and the bell rung, but still the man's attention was not attracted, and before the train could be stopped he was struck with full force and taken up on the pilot of the engine. He instantly rolled down on the track in front of the locomotive, the wheels of which passed over him, cutting off both of his legs between the knees and body, and otherwise bruising and mangling him. The train was stopped as quickly as possible, but by the time Conductor Simmons Clarkson and others reached him he was breathing his last. His death was almost instantaneous. It was ascertained that the unfortunate creature was deaf and dumb, and hence the whistling and bell ringing were lost upon him.

Armed Resources of England, Austria and Russia.

No country, outside of the European powers, is more deeply and vitally interested in the question of peace or war in the old world, than the Southern States. The price of cotton is dependent, in great measure, on the condition of Europe. Disturbances there depress the market, inevitably. A war, which would involve England, the principal consumer of our cotton, must prove disastrous to the cotton interests. As hostilities may commence at any moment, we cannot but feel a deep interest as to the resources of the two chief combatants, as well as those of Austria, who may, sooner or later, be called to take part in the conflict. We may form some idea, however crude, of the probabilities of the final issue of such a titanic struggle as is impending, by a comparison of the relative strength of the powers likely to engage in it. The figures which we give below are gathered from authentic sources. It must of course be borne in mind that the forces are estimates on paper, and that mobilization will show that on all sides they are exaggerated. The following is an exhibit of the English army in the British Islands:

Infantry	61,037
Cavalry	13,375
Artillery	17,856
Engineers	4,007

To these must be added 36,609 men belonging to colonial regiments and certain military stations at distant points, which, with the 7,000 troops in garrison at Malta and Gibraltar, make an effective of 139,874 of all arms. In the East Indies there are 62,856 British soldiers and 123,262 natives; in all, 186,712 men. The Reserves consist of:

Militia	139,619
Infantry volunteers	136,927
Artillery volunteers	31,323
Mounted yeomanry and vol'teers	15,078
Reserve	31,000
Total	354,447

The Commander-in-Chief is the Duke of Cambridge, but all the expeditionary corps will be under the orders of Lord Napier of Magdala, with Sir Garnet Wolseley, of Ashantee fame, as Chief of Staff. It is said that eight corps d'armee, of 30,000 men each, will be immediately concentrated within the United Kingdom, at points hereafter to be designated. The fleet consists of 21 iron-clads of the first-class and 25 of the second, 18 wooden frigates and ships of the line, 55 corvettes, 84 sloops and gun-boats, all well armed; officers sailors, and marines, 62,000. Two iron-clads of the first class, eight wooden frigates, two sloops, and three gun-boats are on the stocks. Besides the above there are 150 transports and training ships in reserve. Vice-Admiral Hornby commands the Mediterranean Squadron, having under his orders Rear-Admiral Commerell, at the head of the Channel Fleet.

Russia can oppose to her adversary a regular army of:

Infantry	604,511
Artillery	48,773
Cavalry	49,183
Engineers	16,203
Total	803,670
First Reserve, all arms	127,923
Second Reserve, all arms	276,664
Total	404,587

Add to the above her Cossacks, 180,000, and we arrive at the almost fabulous number of 1,393,257 men at the disposal of the Czar. Some of the general officers, such as Todleben and Baranzoff, are men of great ability; all have the advantage of greater experience in the field than those of the enemy. Admiral Popoff commands the fleet, manned by 9,112 officers and sailors, and consisting of 18 iron-clads and one circular monitor: 142 torpedo-boats are now in construction at different foreign dock-yards. It is well to remark that in 1875, Russia exported to England wheat to the value of £10,000,000.

Austria can mobilize on paper:

Infantry	597,002
Cavalry	58,794
Artillery	62,774
Engineers and train	78,296
Total	798,066

These will be commanded by Archduke Albert, whose victories in Italy have shown him to be a General of great merit. The fleet consists of 10 iron-clads and 33 wooden frigates, sloops, and gun-boats. Her principal marine arsenals are at Pola, on the Adriatic.

These enumerations indicate, however roughly, the comparative power of the three nations. Russia, it will be observed, has the advantage on land, as against England. Austria evidently can decide the issue of a struggle between the giants. Whichever side Austria cooperates with actively must come out the victor in the end, by force of superior numbers. A war between these powers would be the greatest the world ever saw; and every movement would be intently watched by all the peoples of the earth.

THE Bankrupt law is not yet repealed. The repeal bill will pass, but with amendments. The chances are that the date of its going into effect will be postponed to January 1, 1879. Senators Ransom and Merrimon have made a determined stand in favor of the postponement. By all means their views should prevail; or great hardship will befall many of our people. The exact time of the signing of the act repealing the bankrupt law will be carefully noted and made public, as, when the law is thus repealed, all the State acts regulating bankruptcy proceedings come into force again, except, of course, where they have been actually repealed. Where they fell into abeyance only through the passage of the general bankrupt act by Congress, they will now again have the force of law.

THE trial of the Worley murderers thus far, has been ably conducted, both by the eminent Counsel for the prosecution and defence. Notwithstanding the excitement and deep interest manifested in the trial, every good citizen believes that a fair and impartial hearing will be had. Judge Kerr presides with his usual ability—always dignified and firm.

SAVE YOUR HAIR

TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S

discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

BESIDES BEING THE BEST HAIR DRESSING EVER PRODUCED, LYON'S KATHAIRON WILL POSITIVELY PREVENT GRAYNESS, AND WILL RESTORE NEW HAIR TO BALD HEADS, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

It usually performs these seeming miracles of which the following is

A FAIR SPECIMEN.

I had been entirely bald for several years constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.

In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.

BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur, sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair, and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair to its natural growth and vitality. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.

The Song of Spring.

Soon the blue-bird will be twittering
Upon the budding tree
Soon the small boy will be fooling
With the festive humble bee.
Soon the cowslip and the daisy
Mid the clover will appear;
Soon the moonlight serenader
Will be walking on his ear.
Soon the maiden and her lover
Will rub noses o'er the gate;
And for flies the lodger skirmish
In the hash upon his plate.

GENERAL NOTES.

Mrs. Dr. Mary Walker is rapidly recovering.

The late William Orton's estate is estimated at $150,000.

All the Popes have been Italians since the election of Adrian VI, of Utrecht, in 1552.

It is estimated that the population of Kansas will be increased by 200,000 this year.

Miss Burdett Coutts, now her ladyship, is the richest and most philanthropic woman in England.

Clara Morris hates to be called "clever." She says it is a nasty little English word and she doesn't like it.

The King of Portugal is continuing his translation of Shakespeare, and is now engaged upon "The Merchant of Venice."

Chang Yu Hsing, a Chinese giant, something more than eight feet three inches in height, has arrived in France, en route for Paris and the exposition.

Virginia City, in Nevada, is said to be gradually moving down the face of the mountain, owing to the settling of the ground over the Bonanza mines.

The United States has in its official employ 1,077 Smiths, 605 Browns, 503 Johnsons, 464 Joneses, 432 Davises, 325 Thompsons, 242 Allens and 215 Bakers.

Mme. MacMahon suggested the French exhibition. The ministers did not take kindly to it, but she persisted, and the exhibition is an accomplished fact.

In the well-to-do classes of England 8,000 children out of every 100,000 die in the first year of their lives, but in the poorer classes 32,000 in every 100,000.

During the recent floods in California no flood-tide was noticed on the Bay of San Francisco, so great was the volume of water that poured toward the Pacific.

Washington Star: It is understood that the executive committee of the republican campaign committee, has decided to request a contribution of $50 per head from each republican member of Congress.

During last year 127,000,000 lbs. of tobacco and nearly two billions of cigars were chewed, snuffed and smoked in this country—an increase over the previous year of 8,000,000 pounds of tobacco and 50,000,000 of cigars.

The public schools of Washington will be closed next Wednesday for the season, unless Congress should previously make an appropriation. The school funds are exhausted. By this event 20,000 children and 300 teachers will be thrown out of employment.

The Pall Mall Gazette enumerates some of the men who have been clever at thirty-three. The younger Pitt at thirty-three had governed England as Premier for ten years with eminent success, and had engaged in his great struggle with the revolution of France. At thirty-three Mr. Gladstone, as a Privy Councillor and President of the Board of Trade, was the chief exponent and interpreter of Sir Robert Peel's commercial policy in the House of Commons. At thirty-three M. Gambetta, after conducting the war of the National Defence with an energy and devotion which extorted the admiration of his enemies, had returned to France and taken his place in the Assembly at Versailles as the leader of the advanced Republican party.

A prisoner in the Erie county, Pennsylvania Prison, who was sentenced to servitude for one year and six months, having pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and larceny, has been discovered to be a woman. She is described as having worked with the men polishing buckles, and her behavior was quiet and unexceptional. The sex of the prisoner was discovered by the physician of the prison, who was ordered to report her physical condition by the Governor, who had been appealed to and was contemplating her pardon. It is asserted that she was guiltless of the charge imputed to her, but that her neighbors, who were working for the pardon, had no knowledge of her sex. She donned the attire of a boy at an early age in order to gain her livelihood, and has never changed it. She is but twenty-three, and at the time of her imprisonment was a farmer. She had a woman in her employ who had a nephew, and this person had secreted stolen goods on her premises. She was believed to have committed the deed and through fear of the threats of the real offender made no defense.

In the recent ward and township elections in Chicago the candidates were of all sorts—Democrats, Republicans, Nationals, Independents, and Communists. The total vote was 47,300, distributed as follows: 18,000 Republican, 15,000 Democratic, 6,900 Independent, 6,200 Communist, and 1,200 National. This aggregate vote shows that the people of Chicago are accustomed to perform an important public duty by going to the polls and depositing their ballots, even when there is no special significance in the election. And the returns show another thing, too,—the importance of the Communists as a factor in the community. They polled 6,200 votes—more than one-eighth of the aggregate. In one ward they elected their candidate for Alderman, by 500 majority. It is evident from this that there are enough Communists in Chicago to have some influence on its social and political condition. They are not simply "workingmen," as that term is generally understood; they are socialists of the same violent school as those who attempted the destruction of Paris in 1870, and they do not take any pains to conceal the fact,

I am now receiving my Spring Stock bought within the last ten days in a depressed market after the rush of business was over and goods had fallen. In fact I bought them at hard time and panic prices, and can safely say that never in the history of the dry goods business have I been better prepared to sell good so uniformly cheap. Three yards White Corded Piqué for 30 cents, and one yard thrown in extra; 8 pair White Hose for 25 cents, and one pair thrown in extra; Ladies Embroidered Collars at 5 cents each, ought to bring 15 cents; plain Collars, 3 for 10 cents, and one thrown in extra; Ladies Cloth Gaiters, to arrive in a few days, at 60 cents. LEE'S PREPARED

AGRICULTURAL LIME.

To The Cotton Growers of North Carolina.

The Commissioner of Agriculture having decided that I cannot have an Agency in your State for the sale of this cheap and valuable fertilizer, without paying a tax of $100—which I cannot do without materially advancing the price, I solicit your orders for it, which will be promptly filled on the following terms on board cars in Richmond:

$12 Per Ton Cash, or $15 Per

TON for an approved acceptance on Raleigh, Charlotte, Wilmington, Petersburg, Norfolk, or Richmond, payable on the 1st of November next, or at 8 months from date.

I respectfully refer you to Messrs. J. J. Thomas, Raleigh; J. W. O'Neil, Clayton and others who sold it last spring, and to the various farmers who used it, who say it makes as much cotton as fertilizers costing 3 or 4 times as much. Address,

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Are we to have any good baseball clubs this season? Where are the boys?

——The young gentlemen in business on Wilmington street have introduced foot-racing as a sport.

——A wedding among colored folks in "high life" was celebrated at the A. M. E. Church last evening.

——The receipts of cotton yesterday, as reported by the weighers, were 39 bales. The market was quiet.

——The Governor has appointed Wm. M. Adams a Commissioner of Affidavits for this State, resident in New York city.

——A large number of covered wagons, or "prairie-schooners," as they are technically termed, were in the city yesterday.

——The rains &c. have exposed the gas mains on several streets. We noticed them above ground on East Cabarrus and East South Streets.

——A rock crossing on Fayetteville street, at Lenoir, is badly constructed, and needs looking after. It is calculated to utterly wreck a buggy wheel.

——In our list of officers of Hickman Lodge, Good Templars, elected on Tuesday, the name of W. R. Richardson was given as W. C. T. It should have been W. C. Richardson.

——A. W. Praps is fitting up the front room of his establishment on Fayetteville street, opposite the Market, formerly his furniture store, to be hereafter used as a wholesale liquor store.

——The first Spring procession of baby-carriages made its appearance on Fayetteville street, yesterday. The infantile squallers were out in full force and great style, propelled by a large amount of African nursemaid power.

——Some improvements are being made at the Shaw Collegiate Institute, new fences &c. The old Haywood house, corner Fayetteville and Cabarrus streets, is also receiving some repairs, and, we hear, is to be used as a boarding house.

Funeral.

A child of Mr. J. F. A. Lamond died on Tuesday evening, of scarlet fever. The funeral services will be held to-day at 9 a. m. from the house.

Department of Agriculture.

Capt. B. P. Williamson sends to the department fine specimens of barley grown on his farm. It is 3 feet high, with large stalks and heads well developed. He is now feeding it to his stock, and says they are fond of it.

Patrons of Husbandry.

The people of Alamance are making great preparations for the annual celebration and pic nic of the Patrons of Husbandry, to be held at Co. Shops, on the 18th inst. Gov. Vance and Col. Polk have promised to be present, and deliver addresses. They may expect a rousing audience.

The "German" this Evening.

This evening there will be given at the National Hotel, a German, complimentary to Misses Maggie, Lulu and Florence Tucker, who on the 7th inst. take their departure for Paris. The young gentleman who have the affair in charge will spare no effort to make it one of the most pleasant of the season.

The University Magazine.

The April number, the second, of this magazine, has been sent us. It contains the conclusion of the essay on the "Life and character of Gen. Nathaniel Greene," by Hon. W. A. Graham. There is also an original poem by Mrs. Mary Bayard Clarke. There are also several interesting articles on various subjects. The magazine shows some improvement.

Almost a Fire.

On Tuesday night the kitchen on the lot of Mr. Geo. L. Tonnoffski, on Davie Street, near the City Hotel, narrowly escaped being burned. In the evening some ashes had been removed from a stove, and the box containing them was placed near the kitchen. Some fire among the ashes ignited the building, but with a little exertion the flames were extinguished.

Fine Ores.

Prof. W. C. Kerr, State Geologist, has received from a mine belonging to Gen. R. F. Hoke, on the summit of the Blue Ridge, in Watauga county, some fine specimens of iron ores. They are of red hematite, and are the same as the Marquette ores, from Lake Superior. Prof. Kerr speaks in high terms of the value of the ore, and the working of the mine will doubtless prove very profitable.

The Work-House.

Maj. J. P. Russ has taken from this county institution the following persons, all africans: Chas. Walton, John Patterson, Alex. Herndon, and G. Van Eaton. These were sent there to work out costs. Mr. Russ obtains their services for work on his farm near the city, by giving security, and paying the county for the time they work. If they run away, upon recapture they are to be compelled to serve double time.

For the Penitentiary.

Sheriff David Loftin, of Davidson county, brought down on Tuesday four convicts, whom he delivered to the authorities at the Penitentiary: Randsom Jaynes, convicted of murder, sentenced to 18 years' imprisonment; Henry Owen, larceny, 2 years; Doug Holt, larceny, 2 years; Alex. larceny, 3 years.

Sheriff Thos. Hughes, of Ore county, brought down three convicts whose names, crimes, and term sentence we could not ascertain.

The Homestead Decision and Bankrupt Repeal.

A prominent lawyer of our city in conversation yesterday stated that old debts are now at a premium. He gave it as his opinion that the effect of the decision in regard to the homestead would have a ruinous effect upon our people. Then too the effect of the probable repeal of the Bankrupt act will still further embarrass, by not allowing persons in difficulties to avail themselves of its shelter. He thinks that creditors will avail themselves of the new powers they will have over debtors.

Another lawyer, of great ability, states that he does not think the effect of the recent and prospective action in these matters will prove so great a hardship. He says that our people are by nature liberal, are not shylocks, and so will not seek every means to wring and extort the sums due them. It is not probable, in his opinion, that a man will go to work to in effect oppress his neighbors and others, by forcing them at every hazard to cancel their indebtedness to him. In view of the kindness of heart and true charitableness of disposition, for which many of our people are so justly noted, it is believed that this may be the case. Persons are but too apt to look at the dark side of the picture, and to hastily judge of the effects of a new plan or measure.

Orange Presbytery.

We find the following account of the services on Sunday, of this body, in the city of New Berne, in the Nutshell:

"On Sabbath morning public worship was conducted by Rev. F. H. Johnston, who preached from the third verse of the XXVth Psalm. At the conclusion of these services the communion of the Lord's Supper was celebrated, Rev. Dr. Chapman and Rev. Mr. Hines officiating. This was a solemn and impressive service, and as the vision met the habiliments of mourning which draped the pulpit, it was a reminder to the communicant of his mortality.

At 4 o'clock, p. m., a memorial service was held, in which members of the Presbytery took part and bore testimony to the simplicity and christian character of their departed brother. He was kind, generous, inflexible in right, tender and solicitious of the feelings of others, one whom all learned to love and honor, and who now enjoys the fruition of a glorious hope, and whose faith has ended in sight."

The Presbytery adjourned on Monday night, after a laborious session. Two white and one colored candidate were licensed to preach. The next session will be held in Haywood, Chatham county, in September. The Rev. E. Hines, of Granville county, and Rev. Mr. Darnell, of Milton, with two lay delegates, were elected as Commissioners to the General Assembly, which meets in Knoxville, Tenn., this month.

The Colored Firemen.

The members of the Bucket and Victor Companies, colored, paraded the streets yesterday, preceded by the Oak City Brass Band. The engine and hose reel of the Victor were ornamented with flowers, while the truck of the Bucket company was similarly decorated. In the evening a festival was held by the friends of the companies, in Metroplitan Hall, for their benefit.

The occasion was the anniversary of this Bucket company, and the Victor paraded with them, as a compliment.

It is always a pleasure to see our colored firemen on the streets, for their courage, fidelity and unceasing exertions in time of danger, are things known to us every one. There is, probably, no place in the country whose volunteer firemen work harder and more earnestly to save life, limb or property than ours. Their efforts are and should be ever appreciated by our people.

Law About Voting.

The Charlotte Observer says: The law in regard to registration and voting by wards does not seem to be thoroughly understood, and in view of the very live interest taken in the approaching municipal election, we call attention to one feature which is likely to be overlooked and may cause trouble. The laws of North Carolina, 1876-'78, page 320, chapter 275, section 11, after referring to other qualifications for voters, reads as follows: "The residence of a married man shall be where his family resides, and that of a single man where he boards and sleeps, and should any single man board in one ward or precinct and sleep in another, then his residence shall be in the ward or precinct in which he sleeps, and he shall not register or vote in any other ward or precinct."

Religious Notes.

Tuesday evening Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D. D., delivered an address on education, at Cary, for the benfit of the "Literary Association" there.

Last evening he preached at Crawford's School House, opposite the new Fair Grounds.

The following will attend the Southern Baptist Convention, whose session begins on the 9th inst., at Nashville, Tenn: Revs T H Pritchard and C T Bailey, and Col J M Heck, of our city; Rev Jas B Taylor, of Wilmington; Rev C Durham, of Durham, Rev J E Montague, of Person county. Quite a number of others will probably attend. Dr. Pritchard will report the proceedings for the NEWS.

Mayor's Court.

Several offenders were brought before Mayor Manly at yesterday's criminal levee. J. H. Hughes, white, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was remanded to the guard-house for 12 hours.

Frank Day, Nat Snipes, and Theo. Henry, all black as the hinges of midnight, were charged with stealing two pairs of buggy wheels from Jos A. Haywood, Esq. The first two were found guilty, and sent to jail in default of bail. Henly, on proof of his innocence, was released from custody.

Ives Brooks, african, for being drunk and disorderly, was sent underground for 12 hours.

A Gormandizer.

A lank African walked into the store of Mr. Uzzle, on Fayetteville street, and offered to wager that he could get outside of more cakes than any man living. His capacity for those sweets was tested, with the following results. He first ate eighteen ginger cakes, total weight 22½ ounces; then followed by getting away with six sugar cakes, weighing 4½ ounces. The entire lot were eaten without a drop of water or other liquid being taken to moisten his throat. The man who took the bet left the place a sadder and a wiser man, while the lengthy african walked off a happier and a fuller one.

Durham Items.

An ice-cream and strawberry festival will be given at Matthews' Hall, on Friday evening next, for the benefit of the new Methodist church. This being the first festival of the season, a large attendance is expected.

Messrs. D. W. Whitaker and W. H. Hanks are constructing a bronzing machine, which they confidently expect will be a success.

Smith, Ruffin and Howard, for Supreme Court Justices, would be very acceptable to our people. Orange county, always true to conservatism, will, however, enthusiastically support such ticket as the Convention may, in its wisdom, nominate.

The election for Mayor of Durham promises to be close and interesting. The candidates, Col. Parrish and Squire Angier, are both good citizens and true Democrats, and each has a host of friends. The chances, we think, are rather in favor of the Colonel. As the spectacle of two Democrats running for the same position may appear appalling to our eastern friends, we would state that Durham has no Radical ticket to fight, there being scarcely enough white men of this stripe to form a ticket.

PITT COUNTY.

Horrible Barbarity--The Congressional Race.

(Correspondence of the NEWS.)

GREENVILLE, N. C., April 29, 1878.

Saturday our town was astounded by the news that a child had been murdered about nine miles from town, on the Wilson road. The facts as developed before the jury of inquest are as follows: Fanny Gray (10 years of age) lived with Randall and Milly Patrick, said Milly Patrick being Fanny Gray's aunt; all being negroes. On the 20th inst. Milly, becoming angry for some cause, or without a cause, beat Fanny. Again on Sunday, and through the week, until Thursday night, when the victim died. They also compelled the child to sleep in the horse-stable on Wednesday night, and tied her out of doors in the open air and left her to die there, on Thursday night. Examination, by Dr. Swindell, before the Coroner, showed that she was scarred from the nape of her neck to her heels. There was not a spot from her neck to the soles of her feet that you could place your finger upon which was not mayed. And all the upper parts of her thighs, and all the lower parts of her body, had the appearance of erysipelas. Milly was committed to jail to await her trial at the Superior Court. No proof as yet against Randall.

THE POLITICAL POT.

Politics are just beginning to bubble. The race for Congress is still between Yeates and Latham. Col. Yellowly has hosts of friends, who would support him for any position; but he is not an aspirant for political honors. As for county officers, there will be plenty to choose among. The old officers are good men and popular favorities, and the county may conclude to "let well enough alone," lest it should do worse.

The Peabody Fund in London, which now amounts to about $3,400,000, has been increased by a donation of $60,000 from an anonymous source. At the close of the year, 8,656 persons resided in the dwellings built by this fund.

Suffering will exhibit its presence by the cries of the baby, and should be removed by the prompt use of that highly recommended remedy-Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. It is free from Morphia. Price 25 cents.

Democratic Meeting.

The democratic voters of the Fourth Ward will meet at the Court House on Friday, May 3d, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating three persons as candidates for Aldermen at the election to be held Monday May 6, 1878.

Blue Glass.

Gen. Pleasanton, of blue-glass fame, argues that because in his hot house plants grow stronger and more rapidly under blue glass, the same covering is equally good for animal life, and capable of curing disease. If afflicted, hang no hope upon so doubtful a theory and remedy, but rather trust some thoroughly tested agent. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is successful above all other remedies yet known, in healing affections of the throat, lungs and blood, works in perfect harmony with nature's laws. If the skin be sallow, with blotches and eruptions, or if there be headache, consumption, "biliousness," general and nervous debility, the Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets will, if used according to directions, effect a perfect cure.

ALEXANDRIA, Rapides Parish, La.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir:—Six bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery has cured me of a hacking cough that I have suffered with for nearly four years. I take pleasure in recommending it to the world.

Yours, &c.,

W. JOHN DELACY, P. M.

What a Tottering Fabric

Is a system depleted of vitality and irregular in its functions. It is only judicious and prompt medication which can save it from a speedy and total collapse. The tonic and regulating properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters particularly adapt that benign medicine to revive physical vigor and reform those bodily irregularities which are a barrier to its permanent restoration. Biliousness and constipation are totally overcome by it, and the digestive activity and thorough assimilation which it promotes have the effect of increasing the vivifying and nourishing qualities of the blood. The Bitters are also an excellent detergent of the vital current, since they communicate a healthy stimulus to the bladder and kidneys, which are the most important channels for the escape of its impurities. Pure, agreeable and thorough as tonic and diuretic, thoroughly and promptly, but never violent in its action, the reasons for the transcendent popularity of this medicine are both cogent and appreciable. ap 29 6t

WILSON.

Sudden Death--Hymeneal.

(Correspondence of the News.)

WILSON, N. C., May 1, 1878.

The good people of Wilson were shocked at the sudden death of Wm. Wirt Brown, of Washington, N. C., which occurred in the mercantile establishment of A. Nadal, Esq., in this town, at 8:15 this morning. Mr. Brown had just come up to Wilson for the purpose of selling a quantity of grain, fish, &c. On Monday evening he complained of palpitation of the heart, but it soon passed off. This morning he breakfasted at the residence of a friend, and then walked, nearly one mile, to the business house of Mr. Nadal. He called for paper and ink, sat down behind the counter and wrote a letter to Ben Walters, Esq., of Washington, N. C., and just as he penned the last words, "My regards to your family," he fell back against the shelves, and without uttering a word, expired almost instantly. Dr. Ed. Barnes was called in, but it was too late, life was extinct when he reached the scene. Mr. Brown leaves two children, one a bright boy, aged 13, the other a lovely little girl, aged 12. They are at school here, and were sent for promptly when their father's condition was discovered, but they did not reach the house in time. They came only to see the dead form of a devoted and loving father.

MARRIED.

At noon to-day, at the Briggs House, by the Rev. C. C. Dodson, of the M. E. Church, Miss Mollie Bell Young, daughter of Col. J. T. S. Young, to L. H. Fulcher, Esq., all of Wilson. The happy couple left on the Northern train for an extended bridal tour.

GENERAL NOTES.

On Monday next the Spring term of Wilson court will begin, His Honor Judge Kerr, presiding.

Two splendid stores, iron fronts, are going up in the business portion of town. Capt. H. G. Whitehead, and F. W. Barnes, President 1st National Bank, are the owners.

Strawberries and other vegetables are being shipped from this section to Northern markets. F.
